A FRENCH COUNTESS WHO HUNTED UP NORSE

Countess de St. Pierre Tells of Seeing Fierce Combat Between Black Bear and Timber Wolves—She Describes the Struggle.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 2.—With four ravenous timber wolves battling fiercely with a black bear in the side along the upper Peace river, in Canada Countess de St. Pierre, of St. Pierre, of St. Luce, Brittany, France, by her cald behind a windfall less than 20 feet away and watched the struggle for nearly a quarter of an hour. This occurred several weeks ago, while the titled woman from across the Atlantic was making the trip through the unexplored region north of Edmonton with only Indian guides for her companions. Countess de St. Pierre, who is in Seattle at present, in speaking of the struggle said:

"For a time the honors of war were about even, and so intent were the participants upon the fight that they did not notice the approach of the Indian guide and myself. We had been breaking trail through a heavily wooded forest, the Indian making his way through the timber and undergrowth without any more noise than the occasional cracking of a twig beneath his moccasins. Following his instructions I placed my feet in the track left by his moccasins, and in this way we were able to advance quietly."

Battle in the Forest.
"My first glimpse when I came upon the four wolves fighting desperately with the bear was to shoot. I raised my rifle, but suddenly the spirit of the struggle seemed to take possession of me, and I mentioned to the guide to drop behind a fallen tree. From the camouflage thus afforded we watched the battle for several minutes."

"The timber wolves assailed the bear on all sides, snapping viciously at his heels and nipping away before the showing of teeth could turn. As the bear wheeled to meet an assailant another would spring at him from behind, and the combat continued. The bear was losing ground under the vicious attacks, and it seemed but a matter of minutes until it would be completely exhausted. The timber wolves kept up a continual din of sharp yells, interspersed with howls of anger, while the bear would occasionally emit a roar of rage and pain." der one of the wolves had made an unusually successful attack.

"Brain had all but given up the fight when a realization of the unequal contest dawned upon me. I could stand it no longer, I killed one of the wolves. The other three scurried back at the arrival, trotted off in a sort of half satisfied fashion, apparently undecided whether to be pleased with the outcome of the encounter or not."

Wolves Like Huge Dogs.
"The first time I ever saw a timber wolf," continued Countess de St.
Pierre, "I thought it was a dog, and did not shoot. The animal looked away with the peculiar swinging gait that is characteristic of the wolf, and it brought no more of the incident until I returned to camp. When I informed my guides that I came near shooting a dog they laughed, and after exchanging several comments in their native tongue, explained that I had seen a wolf."

In discussing nature taking, Countess de St. Pierre said: "I doubt if a timber wolf could ever kill an elk or moose, although such claims have been made by writers. A timber wolf or my guides informed me, never travels alone. The Indians say that a wolf, unaccompanied, would hesitate to attack anything more dangerous than a rabbit, but three or four timber wolves will give battle to any animal that roams the woods. And in most cases they are successful. We found a number of bear carcasses, and the guide explained that the monster is subject to hydrophobia. When in his condition a timber wolf will fling himself upon anything from a man to a mountain lion. But such cases are rare."

What a Cyclone Can Do.

Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 2.—Sleeping in from the ocean yesterday a cyclone picked up Henry Leming's barn, containing three stalls and a quantity of hay, carried it 300 feet and broke it into pieces. A cow that was tied in it was dragged half a block, bellow-ing with fear. Before venturing almost the cyclone, tipped the stables from several roofs.

Railroad Contractor Dead.

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 2.—James Collet lock, former railway contractor, is dead at his Detroit home. He was born in 1832. The deceased built part of the Great Western railway.

RESERVE LANDS IN B. C.

Senate Discusses Proprietary Rights of Dominion to Lands.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—In the senate, announcing Landry this afternoon, Secretary of State Scott said it was inconvenient to name the French minister to the senate at present as there was no Quebec vacancy. He had no doubt there would be one, but could not say.
The third reading was given bills from the Commons respecting Manitoba and Northwestern railway, British Columbia railway, and the Esquimaux and Nanaimo Railway company. A number of bills failed to get the second reading because Senator Landry objected to their not being printed in English. Returns were brought down from parliament dealing with the sale of the Metlakatla Indian reservation to the C. T. P. for the Prince Rupert terminal. It was necessary to get the Dominion, whose wards the Indians are, to sanction the sale. The province claimed the reversionary right to the land and that the Dominion has no proprietary rights. British Columbia also desires the general re-surrender of lands not in use, and asked a conference to consider the matter. This was referred to Messrs.
Oliver and Aylesworth, and their report was at variance with the provincial claim. On their recommendation it was decided to offer the province every facility to make a test case. Until the question on law and title is settled by courts, it was thought that a conference would be premature.

Britain May Take Hand in Congo.
Paris, Feb. 2.—King Leopold of Belgium has held several conferences last with Premier Clemenceau and Foreign Minister Pichon, and this afternoon he visited President Fallieres at the Elyse Palace. The president and his cabinet have been discussing the Congo independence. The king and the president's right of France in that territory.

Found Frozen to Death.

Bohannon, N.Y., Feb. 2.—Michael McElroy, a fireman at the plant of the LeRoy Hyman Electric Company, was found frozen to death this morning by two boys.

Prominent Farmer Dead.

Bohannon, Feb. 2.—William Miller, a prominent farmer, closely identified with the Great Farmers' association, died today. He had been ailing some time, but the end was not expected.

CZAR MUST PUT UP.

He is Called Upon to Show Costs in Winning Suit.

Winnipeg, Feb. 2.—An order was filed in the senate suit of the Car of Russia against Stefan Landry, calling upon the czar to give security of $200 costs, according to the statute which provides for the same in the event of plaintiff residing outside the jurisdiction of the court. In default of such security the action will be dismissed.

It is learned that the ex-warden is a man about forty years of age, and that Madam Anna Zeman who accompanied him to Winnipeg from Russia is a young and beautiful girl of twenty-three, whose father is a nobleman.
In the czar's domains. They are not married, and it is said that the election of their elopement is quite romantic.
Since their sudden disappearance from Russia no expense has been spared, it is said, to trace them, and detectives have been on their track for months.

When the Winnipeg property was purchased by the ex-Russian official, in order, it is said, to safeguard it, an arrangement was made whereby Madam Zeman purchased it with cash, and the title for the property was all in her name.

The couple are understood to be traveling in California at the present time, enjoying themselves thoroughly among the orange groves of the sunny southern climate.

Fierce Storm in St. John.

St. John, N.H., Feb. 2.—A furious storm swept the province and Bay of Fundy Saturday night, wrecking several wharves. The velocity of the wind was from 48 to 84 miles. About a hundred feet of breakwater at New River and the largest produce warehouse in the province were destroyed at East Florenceville, belonging to A.
Smith Co. Several small craft were destroyed, and the Empress of Ireland broke her moorings but soon secured fresh.

Regina Roller Mills Burned.

Regina, Feb. 2.—The roller flour mills were destroyed by fire, involving a loss of $25,000, with $18,000 insurance. The building was old but the machinery was new.
